Special Issue: Masking and Biological Rhythms

A. Reinberg, M. H. Smolensky, D. S. Minors and J. M. Waterhouse	i	Editorial
D. S. Minors and J. M. Waterhouse	1	Editorial: Masking and Biological Rhythms
T. L. Page	3	Masking in invertebrates
T. Vanden Driessche, J.-L. Guisset, T. Gaspar, C. Kevers and W. L. Koukkari	13	Masking in plants
P. Lavie	21	Ultradian rhythms in arousal—the problem of masking
D. S. Minors and J. M. Waterhouse	29	Masking in humans: the problem and some attempts to solve it
S. Folkard	55	The pragmatic approach to masking
R. Moog and G. Hildebrandt	65	Adaptation to shift work—experimental approaches with reduced masking effects
M. B. Spencer	77	Regression models for the estimation of circadian rhythms in the presence of effects due to masking
A. J. Lewy and R. L. Sack	93	The dim light melatonin onset as a marker for circadian phase position
International Society of Chronobiology	103	Membership information/application form
Announcements	105	XIX International Conference of the International Society of Chronobiology
	106	XIV Congress of the European Academy of Allergology and Clinical Immunology
	106	International Symposium on Pathology and Travel
	108	United Kingdom Conference on the Health of Inner Cities
	109	Chronobiology: Regulation of the Circadian Timing System

Number 2

I. Assenmacher	111	Obituary
J. M. Wilson and A. H. Meier	113	Resetting the annual cycle with timed daily injections of 5-hydroxytryptophan and L-dihydroxyphenylalanine in Syrian hamsters
V. Reghunandanan, R. D. Badgaiyan, R. K. Marya, R. Reghunandanan and B. K. Maini	123	Lithium chloride SCN injection alters the circadian rhythm of food intake
J. Swoyer, P. Irvine, L. Sackett-Lundeen, L. Conlin, D. J. Lakatua and E. Haus	131	Circadian hematologic time structure in the elderly
D. S. Minors, P. M. A. Rabbitt, H. Worthington and J. M. Waterhouse	139	Variation in meals and sleep-activity patterns in aged subjects; its relevance to circadian rhythm studies
A. Gundel and H. M. Wegmann	147	Transition between advance and delay responses to eastbound transmeridian flights
B. Lemmer and R. Wiemers	157	Circadian changes in stimulus threshold and in the effect of a local anaesthetic drug in human teeth: studies with an electronic pulptester
P. H. Scott, W. G. Kramer, M. H. Smolensky, R. B. Harrist, P. W. Hiatt, J. C. Baenziger, B. J. Klank and H. Eigen	163	Day-night differences in steady-state theophylline pharmacokinetics in asthmatic children
A. Petrovic, C. Oudet and J. Stutzmann	173	Ultradian mitotic rhythms in culture of human sarcomatous bone cells originating from the patient before and after chemotherapy
J. N. Pasley, J. J. Daly, D. McCullough, T. McChesney, E. B. Daly and S. K. Tank	185	Circannual incidence of Giardia lamblia
International Society of Chronobiology	191	Membership information/application form
Announcement	193	XIX International Conference of the International Society of Chronobiology
